

PAYNE AS A CANDIDATE

Barely Possible that He will Fall
Heir to Tilden's Claim.

Tilden's Illness Denied—Wisconsin
Democracy Like the Head of the Old Ticket, but Want the Tail Themselves.

New York, May 28.—The Sun to-day says editorially: "Henry B. Payne is looming up grandly in the character of a possible and not altogether improbable successor to Mr. Tilden as the Democratic candidate for the presidency. The fact that the Ohio delegation in Chicago in July is to be solid for Payne is of peculiar importance and significance. Every day can see what it may amount to."

"The only objection to Mr. Payne is found in the existence of the Standard Oil Company, but that objection is less fatal than it was. It is believed that this famous company stood near the ragged edge of bankruptcy during the crash of Black Wednesday. If it should fall outright before the Democratic Convention meets at Chicago, and if Mr. Payne should really get the nomination, he would stand a splendid chance of being elected. Perhaps he may still enjoy such a chance even without so startling a preliminary disaster. But if he doesn't get the nomination, candid compels us to say he will not stand any chance at all."

Tilden Heavily as Ever.
New York, May 28.—A morning paper yesterday published a rumor that Mr. Tilden had become suddenly ill. The World to-day says:

"Mr. Tilden left his home in Gramercy Park on Saturday and went to his summer residence at Greystone on the Hudson. He stepped from the train at Yonkers unassisted and walked briskly to his carriage. His health and spirits had apparently improved since he had last been seen there."

Wisconsin Democracy.

MADISON, Wis., May 28.—The Democratic State Convention meets to-morrow. Few delegates are at hand yet, but this afternoon's trains are bringing them in. Opinions differ as to the sentiment of the party in this State. It is said the Milwaukee contingent will make a strong effort to secure a solid delegation to Chicago in favor of Roswell P. Flower, at least for second choice, or after Tilden is out of the way. The Madison delegation will push W. F. Vilas for delegate at large. He is known to be opposed to Flower. The Flower movement is said to be strong in Northern Wisconsin, and Republican friends are here working in his interests. The Madison Democrats class themselves for Tilden all the time. They do not listen to the suggestion that he will not be a candidate, or will not run if nominated. They do not howl lustily for Hendricks for the tail of the ticket, for there is a mild hope that Wisconsin may be able to force Vilas upon the attention of the convention for second place. Mr. Vilas declares he has no Vice-presidential ambition, but his friends think he would not refuse to serve.

Tilden Endorsed.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 28.—It has been freely rumored in political circles that Bulkley, the boss of the local Democracy, had made a bargain to send a delegation from this city to the State Convention who would vote for men who would, in turn, vote for Justice Stephen J. Field at Chicago for President. A committee waited on Bulkley, who disclaimed any knowledge of such intention.

The following resolution was adopted by every Democratic club in the city last night, and these clubs are a substitute for primaries. After passing a resolution requiring every delegate to the State Convention to vote for no delegate to Chicago who was not an avowed supporter of Tilden, it was resolved, That it is the sense of this club that Justice Stephen J. Field, not now and never has been our choice as presidential nominee.

POLYGAMOUS RECRUITS.

Another Cargo of Ignorant Foreigners
Bound for Utah.

New York, May 28.—Among the immigrants who arrived from Liverpool on the steamship Arizona, Sunday night, was a party of 270 Mormons. E. H. Williams, who is in charge of the party, was accompanied by thirteen returning missionaries, who have been abroad about two years. The immigrants are principally Germans, but a few come from Great Britain. Most of them are in families, there being few single women. Nearly all of them were farm laborers, some artisans in the party. A large proportion are children, who appear quite healthy. The Mormons seem to be all thrifty and are well provided with luggage. They appear to rather better advantage than the average immigrants. They started for Utah last evening by the Erie Railway.

Cowhiding a Spy.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 28.—Senor Estrada, the editor of one of the Cuban papers here, yesterday cowhided a man named Parado, who is alleged to be a spy of the Spanish Consul. The affair causes great excitement. The men met in the street, when Estrada excited Parado by some expression so that he struck at him. Estrada thereupon drew a cowhide and gave Parado a severe thrashing. Estrada is small and is crippled. It is thought that the Cubans are arranging for another expedition, and are only awaiting the arrival of their chief, but everything is conducted very cautiously.

The Fruit Prospect.

New York, May 28.—Reports from a thousand correspondents of the National Press and Bottlers' Advocate in all parts of the United States regard the fruit crop, say the apple crop, will be the largest ever known. There will be only a half crop of peaches and pears. The prospect for a very large crop of small fruits is very good.

Wall Street Steady.

New York, May 28.—The boom inaugurated in Wall street during the last hour of business in the stock market yesterday made further progress during the first hour to-day. The market advanced from the opening quotations. Loaning rates for stock advanced sharply and bears fearing a further squeeze, rushed to cover. The buying materially assisted the advance.
